7:30 PM - 10:00 PM	Conference Registration / Opening Reception
--------------------	--

THURSDAY, MAY 9

7:30 - 8:15	Registration / Breakfast / Welcome
-------------	---

8:15 - 9:30 AM	Session 1: Planning for Innovation: Cortex Innovation Community St. Louis This session will look at a comprehensive view of innovation districts as a concept for urban renewal. By the end of the session attendees will be able to develop a deeper understanding of this emerging urban model, understand funding strategies and the impact innovation districts have on economic redevelopment, and identify successful traits of innovation district planning. Presenters: Paul Toenjes, MLA, AICP, SWT Design & Beth Letscher, AICP, Cortex	Session 2: KRS Says WHAAAT? A look at how the Kentucky Revised Statutes govern local planning activities and how they impact both the local planner. The session will look at how communities, while still operating under the same statutes, may have different regulations, how those regulations can be changed, and who's responsible for making those changes. Presenters: Melissa Evans, AICP, Brian Howard, AICP, Owensboro Metropolitan Planning Commission, & Brian Davis, AICP, Louisville Metro Planning & Design
----------------	---	--

9:45 AM - 11:15 AM	Session 3: The Community Resilience Toolkit: A Resiliency Guidebook for Municipal Leaders As planners, we are often responsible for being the voice of resilience in our communities and elected officials rely on our knowledge and expertise to guide resilience building efforts. This session will introduce participants to the actions outlined in the Community Resilience Toolkit, as well as the resources and funding sources available. Presenters: John Bucher, AICP, Stantec	Session 4 (ETHICS): Ethical Pitfalls (and How to Avoid Them) The session will include an overview of the AICP Code of Ethics as a refresher, and then dive into various pitfalls in every day planning life that planners may encounter. The session will identify potential ethical hazards and challenges as well as provide tips on how to stay out of danger. Presenters: Brian Davis, AICP, Louisville Metro Planning & Design, & Brian Howard, AICP, Owensboro MPC
--------------------	---	--

11:30 - 1:00 PM (Lunch)	Session 5: The Spontaneous Session No script. No presentation. No nonsense. Instead, an unconventional session where the assembled participants choose the planning or development topics to be discussed—as a group. In this interactive gathering the audience will brainstorm topics, decide the discussion agenda, and an expert panel facilitates the collective conversation. Join us as we explore a variety of ideas and potential solutions for the topics that mean the most to you. Presenters: TBD.
----------------------------	---	--

1:15 - 2:45 PM	Session 6 (LAW): Kentucky Case Law Review This session will look very closely at a number of recent Kentucky Court of Appeals and trial court decisions from 2018 and 2019. Looking at recent case law is a great refresher of the fundamental decisions that have shaped the interpretation of KRS 100 over time while also examining issues of first impression. Issues addressed in cases from 2018 and early 2019 include map amendment procedures, conditional use permits, appeal procedures, and subdivision regulations. This session will also engage participants through a series of hypothetical scenarios that will require them to apply the material from the session to real world scenarios. Presenters: Donnie Warner, Calfee Zoning
----------------	--	--

2:45 - 3:30 PM	Annual Awards Ceremony & Annual Meeting: Join us for ice cream, APA-KY awards ceremony and the annual meeting.
----------------	--	--

3:45 - 5:00 PM	Session 7: Demand Discovery: Going Beyond Tactical to Grow Post-Industrial Cities This session is a look at how the Demand Discovery model is coherently tying together elements of Tactical Urbanism, Lean Urbanism, intentional event programming, and real estate development to provide a new framework for growth in areas that have not seen such investment in over a generation. It will establish the context by looking at cities that are stuck, going bankrupt chasing the old model. Presenters: Joe Nickol, AICP, & Kevin Wright, YARD & Company	Session 8: Reimagining Self Storage Facilities Americans have a lot of stuff, so much so, there is an entire industry dedicated to helping people make room for stuff they can't fit in their house. Self storage facilities are becoming much more common place and the design of these facilities is evolving. This session will look at this evolution and what some communities are doing to encourage it. Presenters: Joel Dock, AICP & Brian Davis, AICP, Louisville Metro Planning & Design
----------------	--	--

5:00 - 6:00 PM	APA-KY Executive Committee Meeting, Room Location TBD
----------------	--	--

6:30 PM - Dark	Evening Reception Join us at the Lake Cumberland State Dock to board a large houseboat for Dinner and a tour of Lake Cumberland between 6:30pm and 7:30pm (boarding begins at 6:00pm). There will be a shuttle van running from the Lodge to the Dock, otherwise it is a short 10 min walk. Following our return, everyone is welcome to remain on board for additional socializing and relaxation.

PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

FRIDAY, MAY 10

8:00 AM - 9:00 AM	Session 9: Manchester, KY: Rural Downtown Revitalization Through Design and Planning Rural communities are often underserved with design and planning efforts. When they receive these efforts, they often struggle with implementation. This session uses Manchester, KY as an example of how planning and design initiatives in rural communities can be structured in a way that allows the community to implement planning projects in a bite sized, holistic and incremental way. Presenters: Ryan Sandwick, University of Kentucky, & Ronnie Sloan, Berea College
-------------------	---	--

9:10 AM - 10:10 AM	Session 10: What's Going on in Urban Forestry Across the Country Trees in cities are now more widely recognized as city infrastructure across the country and provide more benefits that can be quantified than ever before – economically, socially, and environmentally. But every city is facing their own unique hurdles to preserve and maintain (and stop loss of) tree canopy. Learn about the trends, challenges and unique solutions in urban forestry across the US – they may be the perfect example or model for your own community! Presenters: Rachel Comte, Urban Canopy Works, LLC	Session 11: Kenton Connects: A comprehensive approach to active transportation planning With the ever-increasing popularity of biking and walking, planning for these modes of transportation is a necessity that provides its own unique challenges. This session will outline Kenton Connects, Kenton County's all-new bicycle and pedestrian plan that was recently adopted. Learn how staff addressed topics related to bicycle and pedestrian safety, infrastructure, and education through this yearlong effort. Presenters: James Fausz, AICP, & Chris Schneider, AICP, PDS
--------------------	--	--

10:20 - 11:20 AM	Session 12: Tactical Approach to Public Engagement: Mixing it up The presentation will cover hands-on activities at public, stakeholder, and local officials meetings that approach questions a different way than having people put lines on a map. This will also show how in-person and online engagement can be mirrored. Presenters: Lindsay Walker, PE, PTOE, AICP & Aaron Heustess, PE, Kimley-Horn	Session 13: Leveraging Aerial Technologies and GIS for Your Next Project During the presentation, we will discuss the benefits of utilizing aerial technologies, how to gather the needed data, and possible pitfalls to look out for. We will go over the acquisition of aerial data and how to leverage the data to help execute your next project efficiently and accurately. Topics presented will include: Aerial Orthophotography Acquisition, LiDAR, Street Map Data, GIS Web Applications, and using GIS tools to make decisions. Presenters: Jacob Darrah, The Thrasher Group
------------------	--	--

11:30 - 12:30 PM	Session 14: How To Maximize Your Opportunity Zones The newly passed Opportunity Zone legislation is being met with equal parts enthusiasm, concern, and confusion. The purpose of this session is to help attendees understand the intent, current federal guidelines, benefits, drawbacks, and how to optimally leverage opportunity zones. The speakers will bring a wealth of individual and combined experience in real estate public finance, community development, and planning within Opportunity Zones. Presenters: Donnie Warner, Calfee Zoning, & Kevin Wright, YARD & Company	Session 15: Planning Director's Roundtable Meet with Planning Directors across Kentucky and learn about opportunities and challenges they are facing with their communities. There will be a representative panel to discuss the state of the practice, what their vision is for their community, and what they see for the future of planning. Presenters: Multiple Planning Directors in Kentucky
------------------	---	---

12:30 - 2:00 PM (Lunch)	Session 17: Networking Lunch Enjoy lunch with fellow planners before hitting the road!
